Otter Team Guide

Everything your account can see and do inside the Training Portal — giving the second, independent readiness review for your assigned consultants.

Prepared for the Otter Team account tier · Confidential — internal use only

GETTING ORIENTED

Your role

You see only the consultants explicitly assigned to you — one Otter Team reviewer per consultant. Your review is the second, independent sign-off in the readiness process: it's checked separately from the Trainer's verdict, not influenced by it.

SECTION 1

My Consultants

Each assigned consultant shows their technology, visa type, status, and the latest verdict already on file (if any). Submit your own verdict — Ready for marketing or Not yet — with optional notes. Every submission is kept as history; nothing is overwritten.

My Consultants — feedback history and a form to submit your next verdict.

Why it matters: a consultant only moves to "In Marketing" once both your verdict and the Trainer's verdict are positive — your sign-off is one of exactly two required, and it's independent of theirs.
